Ladies:

I have just returned from work following the [REDACTED] Her health has been failing her since April, yet I continued to work and managed to stay way on top of all of my cases until the very recent past. Although I have been back in the office for ONE day, the Judge at Norfolk Superior court would like to know if I am ready for trial on the above lab number. The trial is scheduled to begin NEXT damn week on 2/23. I haven't even had an opportunity to request the drug lab packet and I got the drug cert from the Weymouth police today.

So, for giggles, are either of you available for trial next week or on February 28th? And on a more comical note, is there any way I could get the lab packet on the fly?

Sorry for burdening you with this massively inconvenient email request, nonetheless, please let me know so that I have SOME answer for the crazy court.

Thank you,
Debi Payton
